

Climate Change and Human Health Symposium

Milken Institute School of Public Health

Friday April 24, 2015 9:00AM-12:00PM

Agenda

- 9:00AM Welcome
Lynn Goldman, Michael & Lori Milken Dean of the Milken Institute School of Public Health
- 9:10 AM Opening Remarks
Melissa Perry, Chair of the Department of Environmental & Occupational Health
- 9:15 AM Introduction to the U.S. Global Change Research Program
John Balbus, National Institutes of Health
- 9:25 AM Introduction to the USGCRP Climate & Health Assessment
Allison Crimmins, Environmental Protection Agency
- 9:45 AM Discussion I (with Q&A session)
- Temperature Related Death & Illness
Marcus Sarofim, Environmental Protection Agency
 - Air Quality Impacts
Neal Fann, Environmental Protection Agency
 - Extreme Weather
Jesse Bell, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
- 10:25 AM Break
- 10:35 AM Discussion II (with Q&A session)
- Vectorborne Diseases
Ben Beard, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
 - Water-related Illness
Juli Trtanj, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
 - Food Safety, Nutrition, & Distribution
Lewis Ziska, U.S. Department of Agriculture
- 11:15 AM Discussion III (with Q&A session)
- Mental Health & Well-Being
Daniel Dodgen, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
 - Climate-Health Risk Factors & Populations of Concern
John Balbus, National Institutes of Health
- 11:55 AM Closing Remarks
Melissa Perry, Chair of the Department of Environmental & Occupational Health

Access and comment on the draft assessment here: www.globalchange.gov/health-assessment

